Midland Man Tells of Comanche Land

Corpus Christi Christian and Malignant Rotarian Guest

Appeals to Texas Legislature

Midland, Texas, Jan. 17—(AP)—Speaker of the Texas legislature, William H. McCollum, present state senator from Corpus Christi, today submitted a

Midland newspaper for a resolution in favor of the claim of the state of Texas for the territory of the former Comanche Nation, which was given to the state of Texas by the federal government in 1846.

McCollum told the legislature that the Comanche land was never surrendered to the United States government and that the state of Texas has a right to it.

The resolution was adopted unanimously by the legislature.

AMATEUR FINDS GOLD DEPOSIT

Larry Mann, who recently won the major prize of a gold mining claim, was tickled to bits when hearing the news of a possible gold strike in the vicinity.

He had staked out his claim near a small stream where he had found some curious-looking rocks. After much speculation and digging, he discovered that the rocks contained a valuable deposit of gold.

Mann plans to begin mining operations immediately, hoping to strike it rich and retire comfortably in the future.

Towns are like people in that they have the same characteristics. They are all composed, ordinarily, of schools, churches, and business districts. They all have memories of happy events, and there are many who are regarded as landmarks. They all have good points, spots of smooth, white walls with quarter branches around, and the rest are there. They also have an element of mystery about them. The good points are usually the most noticeable, especially when the weather is fine. In the mornings, they are all alike, but in the evenings, they are different. They all have a way of suddenly changing, and the course the change takes is not always predictable. There is a certain charm to these changes, a sense of mystery that makes them exciting to watch.

My friend, Mr. Green, often tells me stories about his town, Japs, and how he used to get his kicks there. He says it was a great place, and that he still misses it. He says that Japs had a charm that no other town could match. He says that people there were different, and that they all had a way of suddenly changing, and the course the change took was not always predictable. There is a certain charm to these changes, a sense of mystery that makes them exciting to watch.

Another Enlistment for Sergeant Roosevelt

In Philippines for Three Men

A period of twenty-five days, during which Sergeant Roosevelt, a member of the 18th Field Artillery, was engaged in the Philippine Islands, has expired, and the performer on Tuesday was discharged.

Sergeant Roosevelt has been here for the past six months and is a member of the 18th Field Artillery. When the 18th Field Artillery went overseas, Sergeant Roosevelt went with them and has been serving with them in the Philippines ever since.

The 18th Field Artillery sailed for the Philippines on October 30, and since that time has been engaged in fighting and other military operations. Sergeant Roosevelt has been very active in the field and has done a fine job.

When the 18th Field Artillery returned to the United States, Sergeant Roosevelt was one of the first to arrive. He has been here ever since, and has been working hard to get his discharge.

The discharged men of the 18th Field Artillery are now returning to their homes, and many of them are looking forward to a long and happy future.

Residents of San Marcos Here

Sadie McLelland, of San Marcos, was discharged recently and returned to San Marcos. She is a member of the 18th Field Artillery, and has been serving with them in the Philippines for the past three months.

Sadie McLelland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Adams, and has been serving with the 18th Field Artillery since the beginning of the war. She has done a fine job, and is now looking forward to a long and happy future.

Mrs. Wheelock and Miss Bessie Jacobs and Mrs. E. C. Nicholls, and other friends, were discharged recently and returned to San Marcos. They have been serving with the 18th Field Artillery since the beginning of the war, and have done a fine job.

The discharged men of the 18th Field Artillery are now returning to their homes, and many of them are looking forward to a long and happy future.
